FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESKEnd of Term Already!

It's hard to believe that we are at the end of Term 1, time just seems to fly by.

It has been a very busy one for students and teachers with a range of incursions and excursion linking to the students' learning, School Camp, training for Cross Country, Swimming competitions, a working bee, parent/teacher meetings, extensive initial assessment of students by teachers as well as all the everyday activities that are part of school life.

Our Preps are now attending school full time. It is amazing how much they have grown over the past 10 weeks, they are now truly part of the Clarinda family. They are still learning the routines and boundaries but it is wonderful to see how engrossed they are in their learning activities and how enthusiastically they approach their work.

I would also like to recognise and acknowledge the contribution of our staff this term.

They have been flexible in their approach and have made considerable effort to help every child adjust to learning after the disruptions of 2020.

We wish Miss Koskarti all the best for her wedding day on Friday 9th April. Miss Koskarti will finally marry Tommy after the wedding postponement during 2020 due to COVID-19.

Parent Payments – (School Fees)

Thank you to the many families who have already paid essential education items payments. These are required payments which are now due. Payment of Essential Education fees pays for items which are essential to support instruction in the standard curriculum program such as essential curriculum materials.

It is deeply appreciated that a majority of parents also support our school through voluntary payments to enable the maintenance of our vast school grounds, play equipment and technology (devices). Some parents also make extra donations which will be used to provide resources for all students. We are indeed extremely fortunate to have such wonderful people in our school community. Thank you.

If you require assistance to make payment, please contact our office to make an appointment. Appropriate arrangements, such as a payment plan can be developed in the strictest of confidence.

See you back at school from Monday 19th April 2021.

Robbie Mallett
Principal.

HAPPY EASTER to all our school community.

From our School Council President

Dear families,

What a term ~ things are never quiet at CPS!

Our Preps are well and truly settled in ~ they'll be at 100 days in no time!

Our amazing students are coming in leaps and bounds ~ some are quite literally with the District Cross Country!

On 12 March I had the privilege of being part of the School Strategic Plan ~ Validation Day for our school. As a parent, it was an eye-opening experience. It showed the extent of thought, planning and dedication that is required to deliver outstanding education to our kids.

The day was critical in looking at the data over the last 4 years, how it aligned with previously set goals and helped to identify areas that the school will be prioritising over the next four years.

We went into a number of classrooms and interviewed students across various grades ~ this information provided great insights into learning structure at our school. 24th March was the final day of the review and it is exciting to see how the school is going to step up to the challenge ~ I know our kids will absolutely thrive!

I would like to congratulate Mr Mallett, Ms Joyce, Ms Beissel and all the CPS staff for their hard work and dedication.

On Monday 29 March Mr Meng Heang Tak, member for Clarinda, came for a school visit.

It was fantastic to meet with Mr Tak, go on the tour from brand new modular building and classrooms, all the way through to our oldest portables. Whilst it was great to see new, modern classrooms being utilised to their full potential, it was vital to show him just how critical additional funding would be for our school.

I would like to continue to strongly encourage our CPS community, irrespective of whether your child is in Prep or Grade 6, to please keep advocating for our school.

Please continue to contact our local MPs.

Please keep the pressure on ~ it is only through our collective voices, that we'll be heard. Our kids deserve better facilities.

I hope everyone has safe and enjoyable school holidays ~ see you all in Term 2!

Victoria Koutsoubos

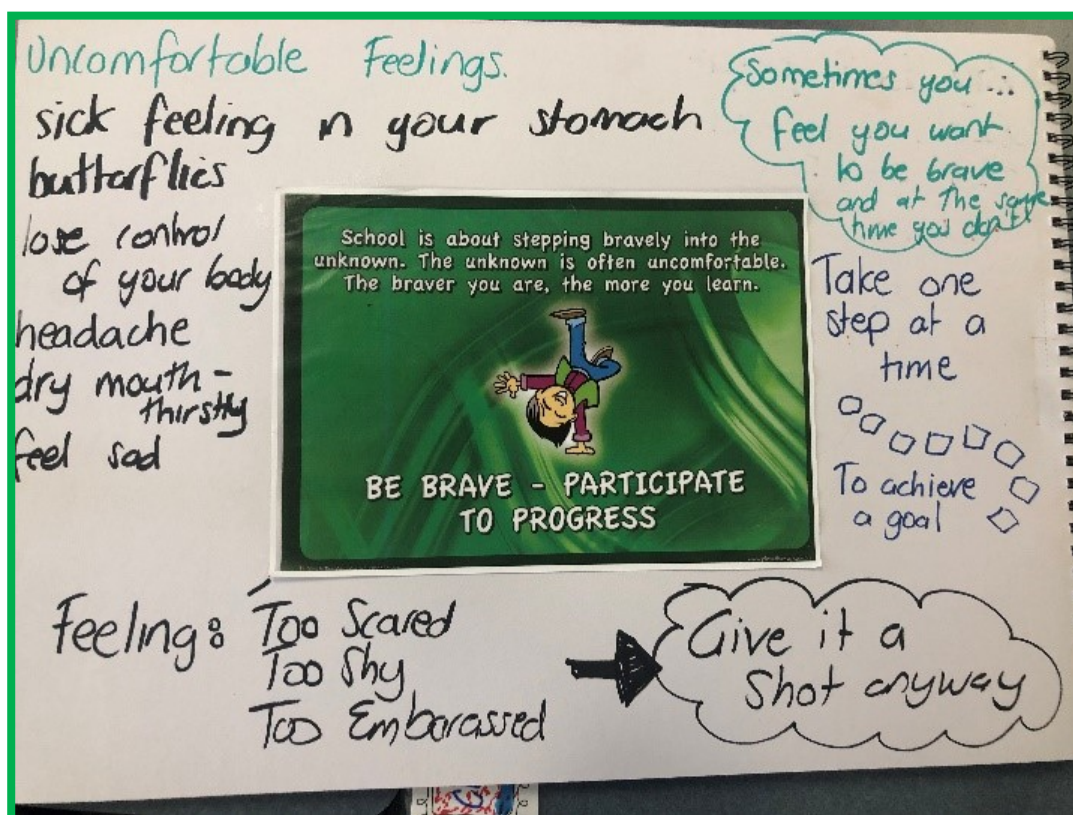

Some fantastic work is happening around the school, embedding the concepts of the Second Life Raft in the Play Is The Way Program.

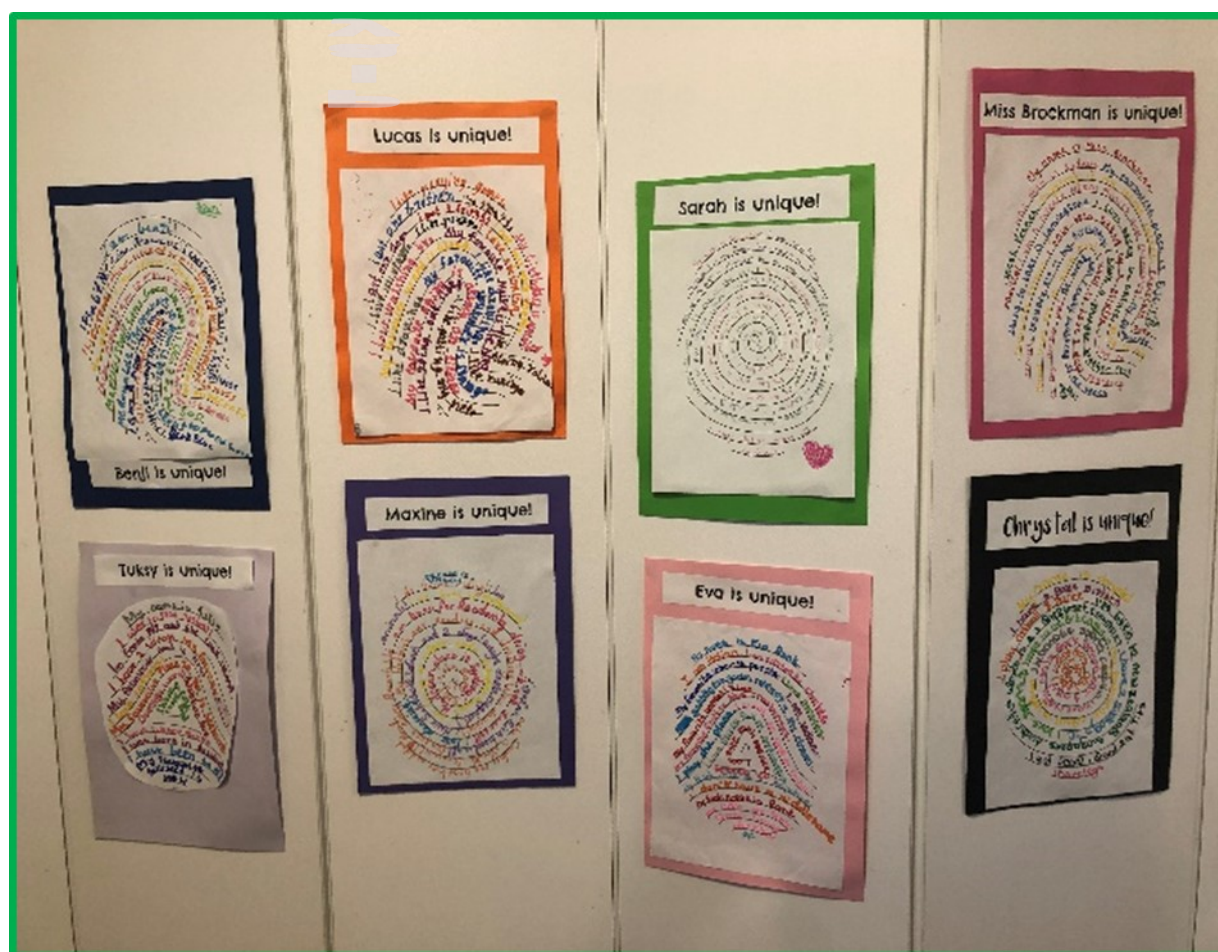

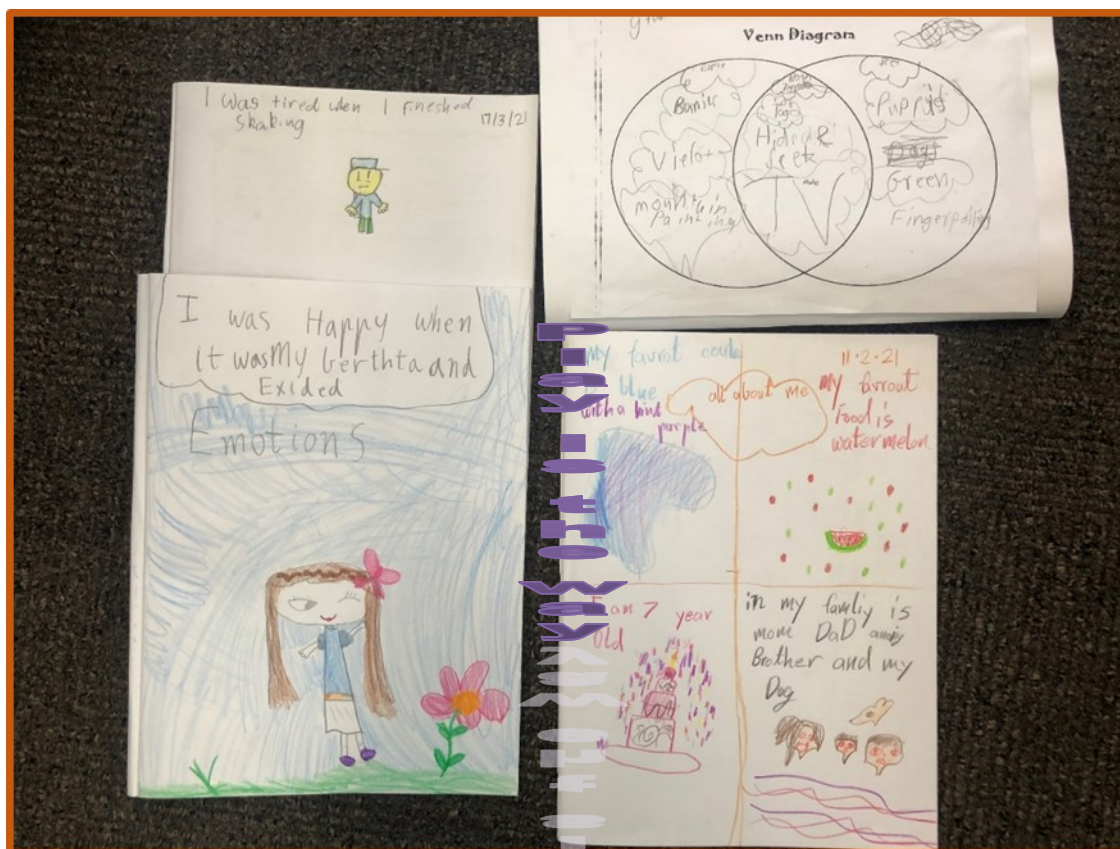

Students have been getting to know each other, valuing why they are all unique and exploring their feelings.

During Circle Time class discussions, Anchor Charts are created to explore social and emotion well-being concepts more deeply and will be used throughout the year.

Thank you, Susie Trumble

News from the Language Department

All students have been very busy engaging in all aspects of the Greek Language Program this term. The After School Greek Program commenced in February and we are delighted to see both Mother Tongue and non - Mother Tongue students attending our sessions on a Wednesday afternoon.

All the students have settled in and are immersed in learning about the history of Greek Art and its significance to the language.

A number of students from Foundation to Grade 6 have received certificates for their exceptional contribution, initiative and well displayed behaviour during language classes.

These certificates of merit were distributed via our Language Captains.
A Big Thank You to both Summer Thompson and Kosta Iakovis.

A highlight for our department, this term, was the celebration of the 200 Year Anniversary of Greek Independence Day in conjunction with Harmony Day.
A delicious spread was provided to help celebrate the significance of the day.

We are most appreciative to our local community for their generous donations and support.

Special thanks to the following businesses:

Dolce Fantasia Cakes for the biscuits

1202 Centre Road, Oakleigh South

Yenhuot Gift Shop for the cellophane bags

23A Portman Street, Oakleigh

Danny's Pastries for the cheese and spinach pies (Tiropites/Spanakopites)

47 Westminster Street, Oakleigh

The Oakleigh Doughnut Co (TODCO) for the sugar and cinnamon doughnuts

36 Portman Street, Oakleigh

We would like to thank Mr Robbie Mallett and Ms Katelyn Joyce for their support.

Ms Ann Pouki and our Parent helpers Ms Stav Tasia and Ms Aikaterini Karastathis for their assistance in decorating and packaging the biscuits.

Your hard work and dedication helped make the day a special one for all our students.

5 ways to increase good feelings (and reduce a toxic atmosphere) in your family

That doesn't mean that such families are devoid of conflict or criticism, but that they are generally pleasant environments to be part of.

One way to increase good feelings in your family is to increase the number of compliments kids hear at home.

As a general rule, the ratio of compliments to criticism should be around five to one. That is, there should be five times more positive, affirming comments than negative comments.

In unhealthy families this ratio is often reversed. Five negative comments for every one positive comment makes for a pretty toxic environment.

How does your family rate on this scale?

If you think about where your family may be on this scale, be careful about how much weight you put on your children's comments, especially to each other. Siblings can be unkind to each other, finding it hard to share a pleasant word, which can skew the positive to negative ratio a lot (and sometimes make family life quite awful for everyone).

However, this can change over time.

Here are five ideas to help you improve the compliments to criticism ratio in your family:

- Increase the number of affirmations and compliments you make yourself.
- Keep a check on your use of 'good feeling killers' (and self-esteem killers). Eradicate comments such as: "Typical boy!" "If I've told you once I've told you a 1,000 times, don't..." "What a stupid thing to say to your brother/sister!" Bite your tongue. If you find yourself thinking a criticism, keep it to yourself.
- Make kids aware of their negative language.
- Make it a habit to follow a negative with a positive.
- Let the bad feelings out.

These, along with affectionate phrases and kind remarks, will start to skew the ratio a bit. Aim for a five to one ratio. Not only is this good modelling for your kids, but it will make family life more harmonious. Yep, five to one is your aim. If you can't do that, then you can't expect it of your kids.

Constant criticism harms self-esteem, not to mention family harmony. Use 'I' statements to let kids understand the impact their negative talk has on you and others. "When you talk so aggressively I feel quite scared about what you are going to do next." It's impossible for kids to disagree with 'I' statements.

When I was teaching I always tried to follow discipline of a student with a compliment or some positive feedback so that we could maintain a good relationship. Do the same in your family. Follow discipline, a rebuke or a negative comment with a positive act or comment. Then teach your kids to do the same!

Sometimes there can be such a build-up of ill will between siblings that you need find a way for them to let the bad feelings out. One way to do this is let one child vent to you about their sibling. Be warned that you may not like what you hear but a clearing of the air can work wonders to improve the family atmosphere.

Most of these suggestions start with you, the parent. Like everything in family life, whatever you want from your kids, you must take the lead and do first. Remember, five positives to one negative is your aim!

You'll find more great ideas to nurture a close, loving family in my book Spoonfed Generation: How to raise independent kids. Get your copy at our online shop.

Tailored before and after school experiences that children love.

This term we have had the pleasure of participating in a Multi Sports Incursion each fortnight, these have been so much fun, and all children loved participating in all the experiences like obstacle courses that challenged our balance and both fine and gross motor skills we also built on our team building skills by working together in small groups to complete each course and of course promoted physical activity. We hope to further this experience next term as well.

HANDBALL

CHAMPIONSHIPS

Whether your child calls it Handball, Downball or 4-Square – it's the game that they all know and love.

Handball, also known as Downball and 4-Square, is every child's favourite sport. The sound of every recess and lunchtime bell signifies another opportunity to compete with friends.

We wanted to give children a chance to prove themselves on the big stage - so we are excited to introduce the Handball Championships.
